

EAAP's scope of accreditation is the accreditation and preaccreditation of practices providing service/products based on different aspects of applied psychology in Europe and/or internationally.

When an institution, specialized program/service, or single practitioner is accredited, it has demonstrated that it meets standards set by EAAP. Every accreditation is issued for the period of 3 years. After that period the recipient must undergo a similar review to maintain accreditation.

After the accreditation process has passed and the applicant has been approved he receives an accreditation certificate from the EAAP

There are three types of accreditation:

Type of accreditation:	This type of accreditation is suitable for:	Price of the Accreditation
1. Professional Accreditation	One single practitioner (the certificate is issued under the name of the applicant and his practice). Suitable for Psychotherapists, Coaches, Consultants, HR & recruitment specialists, Soft skill trainers, etc.	The price of the Professional Accreditation is 160 euro and is valid for the period of 3 years.
2. Programmatic Accreditation	Accreditation of specific service, program or product. That could be training or educational program, or product such as self – help book, etc.	The price of the Programmatic Accreditation is 400 euro and is valid for the period of 3 years.
3. Institutional Accreditation	Accreditation of commercial and non-commercial organizations, institutes, educational departments, consulting agencies, training and development centers, etc. The accreditation comprises all activities performed by the organization.	The price of the Institutional Accreditation is 1800 euro and is valid for the period of 3 years.

To receive a description of the accreditation process and a package of application forms, send an email to accreditation@eaap-eu.com , with a text stating which type of accreditation you are interested in.